KINDNESS

Why is it kind to learn another language?

Why is it kind to learn another language?

It is kind to learn another language because then if someone came to your house and they spoke a different language you would know what they were saying. It is not kind to make someone speak English if they don't already know it.

Rosa, Upper I (Year 4)

It is kind to learn another language because you show that you're interested in the world around you and you also respect the country or place you are in. Also, you can communicate with different people.

Alison, Upper I (Year 4)

I think it is kind to learn another language because if you go to a country and say something random you might offend someone.

Hiba, Upper I (Year 4)

If you learn another language you can learn one's mother tongue and help them translate to a different language.

Rehat, Upper I (Year 4)

It is kind to learn another language because you are showing your teacher or person who taught you respect and that you have listened to what they have said. You are also showing interest which makes the person happy.

Mina, Upper I (Year 4)
